ABOUT THE CITY.

J. K. McDonald, court stenographer at Deer Lodge, is visiting friends in this city.

The street cars will to-day commence running regular trips to the Park on the schedule published at the head of this col-

Judge Barret of Butte arrived in Anaconda last night and is stopping at the Montana. The judge's health has been greatly improved by his recent trip south.

Col. D. P. O'Connor, the horseman and politician, was down from Butte yesterday and spent the afternoon looking over the Anaconda race track. He thinks the coming season will be the greatest ever known in Montana racing circles.

Frank Campbell of the Montana would not have given Queen Victoria 25 cents for her golden crown yesterday. It was Frank's first day as a father, and his happiness was complete. There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, on Monday, April 18, a daughter.

A number of Anaconda doctors will go to Butte to-day to attend the State Medical society, which meets there to-day. The programme has not yet been arranged. The session will last three days, and many matters of great interest to the profession will be up for discussion.

William Corbier of Black Pine was married the other day to Miss Ella Leyden of Pilot Knob, Mo. The ceremony was per formed by Rev. Father Dyrekere of Deer Lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Corbier are stopping at the Montana. They will take up their residence in this city.

In the office of FitzPatrick & Strickfaden stands a new safe, the largest ever brought into Anaconda for use by any private concern. It was manufactured for them by the Mosler Safe & Lock Co. of Hamilton, Ohio, and is strictly fireproof. It weighs over 6,000 pounds and its interior finishing and exterior decorations are the work of artists.

Early yesterday morning engine No. 155, on the Montana Union, was ditched near Mill Creek by a broken driving rod. The engine was pulling a freight from Butte, and engineer J. Muivane was in charge of her. The main driving rod broke and one end ran into the ground, throwing the engine from the track. Mulvane was pretty badly scratched about the legs, but he was not dangerously injured. The engine was put back and pulled off without much de-lay.

E. P. Estes, Cincinnati; Case Edwards, Chicago; D. C. McMonnegal, Middletown, Chicago; D. C. McMonnegar, and the own, N. Y.; D. P. O'Connor, Butte; I. W. Ge-ville, Gloversville, N. Y.; W. H. Strader, St. Paul; D. D. Galvin, New York; J. K. McDonald, Deer Lodge; J. E. Dawson, Butte; John Maguire, Butte; J. M. Moore Butte; D. J. Hennessy, Butte; D. W. Shoemaker, Butte; A. H. Barret, Butte; D. E. McCarthy, New York; Miss M. Chase, New York; John F. Kelley, St. Paul; Charles Baswitz, St. Paul, were among those registered at the Montana vesterlay. yesterday.

For Cattlemen.

A congress of all cattlemen in the range of the Rocky mountains will be held at Ogden, April 29. The convention is called for the purpose of considering all matters of importance to the stock raisers of the great West. Representatives are invited from all points where stock raising is en-gaged in. R. L. ARMSTRONG, Secretary.

POLITICS AND THINGS

Talk of the Big Battle That's to Come This Fall.

SHOULD GET INTO LINE

New State Officers of the Sons of Veterans - Cases Before the Grand Jury and the Names of the Jurors.

The question of organizing a democratic club in Anaconda should now receive at-tention, so a good many democrats in this city think. Many enthusiastic democrats think the time is now ripe for action. In all parts of the state the parties are organizing and Anaconda seems to be about the most tardy of all the cities in this regard. In truth the time before the most import-ant election ever held in the history of Montana is no longer far distant. If the democrats of Montana propose to keep this state in the democratic ranks they must get to work upon it. In all sections of the state the republicans are alert and actively engaged in flying up for the campaign. No call has yet been issued for the democratic state convention, but one must soon come now, The republicans will hold their convention in Missoula, May 9. County conventions are announced in all the different counties except Deer Lodge and Dawson. The republicans of Deer Lodge are in a listless condition anyway, and it is barely possible no action will be taken towards appointing delegates from this county. The republican state conven-tion will be composed as follows, provid-

The business of the state convention will be to nominate candidates for state offices and six delegates and six alter nates to the national convention. It is said the republicans do not propose to nominate their state candidates at their Missoula meeting but that they will wait until later in the year.

Superintendent Stone will attend the annual state encampment of the Sons of Veterans now in session at Helena. The following officers have been elected for the ensuing year: W. J. Jamison, Butte camp No. 2, com-

Yesterday a horse was seen tied near the pest house in the eastern end of the city. It was reported to the officers that the animal had been standing tied there since the night before. Deputy Sheriff Burke and Constable Stebbins went out and brought the poor animal to the city. It apparently had been standing there a long time. The officers found no one in the vicinity and no evidence to show who had left the animal there or who owned it. The horse is a light grave, it was harnessed and use mai there or who owned it. The horse is a light gray; it was harnessed and un-hitched from a nearly new top bugzy which stood near by. The officers think probably the horse belongs to a Butte livery stable and was stolen and left there by the thief, who became frightened and decamped. Senator W. M. Thornton of this city is the choice of the young democracy of these parts for one of the six delegates from Montana to the national convention at Montana to the national convention at Chicago. The senator steadfastly main-tains that he is out of politics but his friends hope that he will not refuse to allow his name to go before the state convention for nomination as national delegate.

They Hold a Rousing Mass Meeting at Bellevue.

Bellevue, Idaho, April 19 .- A rousing enthusiastic mass meeting of citizens of Bellevue and the surrounding country was held to-night for the purpose of or-ganizing a silver club. The meeting was addressed by several local speakers, Major George D. Hill, Judge J. S. Hampton, A. J. Graham and others; also Judge Doniphan of St. Joseph, and Colone John Dalhgren of New York. A positive preamble and pledge was unanimously adopted not to vote for any candidate for office who is not committed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver. More than 250 people subscribed their names to the pledge. The citizens seem in earnest and determined and organization throughout the state will be continued. It is believed nearly every citizen will join irre spective of party. The meeting adjourned with three cheers to meet again next Wednesday night, when the club will be fully organized with by-laws and per-

ON A GRAVE CHARGE. Hon, Patrick Greville Nugent Under

LONDON, April 19.-Hon. Patrick Greviile Nugent, a brother of Lord Greville. to-day was arraigned in the police court on o charge of having indecently assaulted a young lady named Price. The offense is alleged to have been committed last night in a compartment of a train running to London from Brighton Miss Price stated that she made a most desperate struggle against her assailant. He only succeeded in the attempt after she was exhausted by fighting against him. The prisoner was remanded in bail of £400. He strenuously denies the charges, and says the case is one of attempted blackmail. Greville was born in 1852 and married in 1882 to Ermengarda, a daughter of the late Augustus Ogilvie. He is deputy lieutenant and magistrate of the county of Westmeath, Ireiand. At one time he was high sheriff of the county. His residence is at Clonym castle, Delvin.

ATHLETICS AND LIBERTY.

Bodily Vigor Thrives Best in Countries Where the People are Free.

From the Boston Globe A writer in Harper's Weekly contributes some very sensible observations on ath letics in various countries, as reflecting the social and political condition of the people. The more elastic the institutions of a country the more elastic are the mus cles of its people. The freer the laws, the freer the mind; and, consequently, the freer and more active the body. Hence athletics especially flourish in republica and reach their minimum in the most despotic countries. Where inertia is stamped upon the institutions of a country it is reflected upon the general physique. In years past England led in athletics. She hardly leads now. The athletics letic boom has grown wonderfully in France since she became a republic. If we re the most physically active nation in the world it is because we are politically and mentally so.

The one country in Europe where sports are almost unknown, and athletics despised, is Russia. The average subject of the ezar has almost a horror of physica exercise, and physical inertia is stamped upon the people everywhere. Germany has grown but slowly in athletic enthusiasm. The great surplus of army athletics seems to have spoiled the appetite of the people for sports of all kinds so popular in England and in this country. The best soil for athletics is in countries where everybody takes a hand in government, where heavy standing armies are absent, and where personal dignity is not crushed under the weight of the traditional social cast. A free mind in a free body in a free nation is the best promise and potency of athletic life.

Hints to Housekeepers.

Why the Health of Officers and Soldiers is Better than the Average Citizen.

IT IS UNIVERSALLY ADMITTED that the health of Officers and Soidiers in the United States Army is much better than that of the average Citizens. Why is this? Because the utmost care and precaution is exercised in the purchasting of food, each article is subjected to the most rigid examination, and if not fit to pass inspection is rejected. The standard is always of the highest; and Uncle Sam insists on its being maintained. The citi-Sam insists on its being maintained. The citi-zen has not these facilities at hand, and our laws are defective, as the manufacturer of spurious goods is not, in a great many cases, com-pelled to state it. In the absence of all this in-formation the intelligent housekeeper must of necessity depend upon goods of acknowledged merit and parity. In the matter of Baking Powder the SNOW FLA E has been used ex-clusively by the Government for the past by years and not one can has ever been rejected.
